

ERIN JAMES

Calling all tried and true country fans—
Erin James is the artist you need to know.

With roots in Maryland and a homegrown sound straight outta Nashville, Erin blends classic country soul with razor-sharp wit that'll have you laughing, crying, and raising your glass all in one set.

She's not just played alongside the legends—she's earned her boots on those stages. From opening for her idol Merle Haggard to sharing the spotlight with Brooks & Dunn, Jamey Johnson, and Jason Aldean, Erin's journey reads like a honkytonk hall-of-fame. And if her schedule looks wild, that's because it is—whether she's lighting up stages across the U.S. and abroad or working the ER saving lives, she brings grit, grace, and good fun.

Erin's got a knack for telling stories that stick with you. Each track she writes and produces herself is packed with humor, and heart—whether she's backed by Nashville's sharpest session players or flying solo with her acoustic shows.

Her album Wilted Flower features a lineup of all-original songs that showcases her honest lyricism and backwoods charm. And hang onto your hats—her recent compilation, produced by Cody Leppo (Jamey Johnson's drummer), is taking things to a new level. If you're booking talent or just looking to fall in love with an amazing artist, Erin James isn't just bringing the Nashville vibe—she's redefining it. Find her music on all streaming platforms—and get ready to be blown away.
